New electoral boundaries 'disaster'

FINAL recommendations for new Dorset County Council electoral boundaries have been branded a "disaster" by a Bridport and county councillor.

The proposals, which were published late last month by the Local Government Boundary Commission for England, were designed for each county councillor to represent approximately the same number of voters.

In the draft proposals, Bridport was split into two separate single member divisions – North and South – which have now been changed.

Bob Gillis, Bridport town clerk, said: "The town council made strong objections to the original recommendations for two single member Bridport North and South divisions, in view of the size of the proposed divisions and the wide coverage of both rural and urban areas."

"It was felt that the proposed divisions did not reflect the interests and identities of local communities."

But the plans still recommend Bridport to take in communities as far as Hooke to the North and Compton Valence to the East with nearby villages Symondsbury and Eype being part of the Marshwood Vale division.

Ros Kayes, town and Dorset county councillor for Bridport, said: "This is better than the original proposal of splitting Bridport in two, but it is still a disaster."

"Two councillors will never be able to do all that work, it will be impossible to offer the same quality of service to both Bridport and all the villages of the Bride Valley."

"The sort of issues that will arise will be very different in Toller Porcorum and Skilling; people in the

by Lottie Welch

lottie@pemedia.co.uk

villages are often much wealthier than those in the town."

"The commission have done this as a number crunching exercise. They have contradicted their own criteria in doing so."

"As a result, I suspect constituents in the division will get a poorer quality of service from the county councillors than formally – it is an utter cack-handed mess."

The commission's final recommendations – which follow an eight-week public consultation – propose that Dorset should be represented by 46 county councillors in the future that should represent 34 single-member electoral divisions and six two-member electoral divisions across the county, including Bridport as one of the two-member divisions.

Max Caller, chair of the commission, said: "We are extremely grateful to people across Dorset who took the time and effort to send us their views.

"The commission considered every piece of evidence it received before finalising these recommendations.

"Across the county, we have sought to balance the views expressed to us by local people with the criteria we must apply when we are deciding on new electoral arrangements.

"As such, we believe these recommendations deliver electoral equality for voters as well as reflecting the identities of communities in Dorset."

Full details of the final recommendations are available on the commission's website at www.igbc.org.uk.

The proposed new arrangements must now be implemented by parliament.

A draft order – the legal document, which brings into force the recommendations – will be laid in parliament in the coming months.

The draft order provides for the new electoral arrangements to come into force at the county council elections in 2017.

STAFF at Bridport Leisure Centre were delighted to welcome Chrissie Wathen-Neal, Macmillan Cancer Support's fundraising manager for Dorset, back to the centre to present her with a cheque for hundreds of pounds.

The money, £721.95 in total, was raised from their World's Biggest Coffee Morning they hosted with members of The Living Tree cancer support group and Stepping Out cancer rehabilitation scheme, which Chrissie attended on Friday, September 25th.

Rachel Heath, customer sales advisor at the centre, said: "This is the first year

RICHARD John Balson, 58, is the Master Butcher at RJ Balson and Son. The Balson family has run the shop for 500 years and it has seen 25 generations work at the Bridport store. RJ Balson is run by Richard and his brother in law Rudi Boulay.

- SURVIVING for 500 years in a small Dorset town is surely something to be immensely proud of?

It's great for the town of Bridport and it's a very unique situation. We are immensely proud of our achievement and to have been around since the time that Henry VIII was king, and still trading is unbelievable. This was the year before the first published account of the discovery of North America appeared and eight years before the cocoa bean was introduced to Spain.

- TELL us about the ethos at RJ Balson & Sons?

We offer and demand from our staff a friendly personal shopping experience. Some might say its more of an old fashioned service but we try to treat everyone equally and with respect.

- RJ BALSON started off as a market stall, how important is the market still to Bridport?

The market is very important to Bridport. It is a great market town full of independent shops. In 1515 there was only the market stalls and that's how we got started, in an era before shops.

- WOULD you say you mostly deal with regulars or are you expanding your customer base all the time?

We are a mixture really with 50 per cent of our customer being the local regulars, and the other 50 per cent being wholesale, but we attract custom from all over Dorset.

- WHY is locally butchered meat so preferable to supermarket fare?

Our butchered meat is of a better quality and importantly is fully traceable from the field to the fork. At RJ Balson's we also hang our meat for customer preference. It's the little things that make all the difference when buying from a butchers instead of a supermarket.

- TELL us about your father Donald and his 73-year service to the company

He taught me everything I know and I had the pleasure of working alongside him for 40 years, and I miss him so much. He trained Rudi and myself. He started with the firm in 1938 and always maintained that his first task was to go out into the fields to catch our horse before he could begin the day's deliveries. After 73 years service to the firm, interrupted only by service to HM Navy during the 1940s, Donald sadly passed away in 2011.

- IS THE next generation of Balson's already donning the aprons?

All Balsons are born with a sausage in their hand and there is two generations waiting in the wings, however I am not ready to retire just yet.

- SO plans for another 500 years?

Yes, why not, we plan to keep offering great products and great service for the next 500 years. I love my job and my customers and I have a passion and pride in who I am and in practising the butchery craft. Long may we reign.

Billy Bragg to play Democracy Day event

A DAY of celebrations looking at Democracy in Bridport will come to the town this Saturday (October 17th) with performances from Billy Bragg and local dancers.

Court House planning rejection appealed

CHURCHILL Retirement Living has appealed against West Dorset District Council's planning rejection to re-develop The Court House in Mountfield into retirement apartments.

The developers have submitted a new application for 22 one and two bedroom apartments, rather than the former 26 bedrooms, communal facilities, guest suite and buggy store with only seven car parking spaces.

The application can be found at <http://bit.ly/1NE2eQK> and comments are to be received by West Dorset District Council by November 7th either online or sent to Development Services, South Walks House, South Walks Road, Dorchester, DT1 1UZ.

we have run this event and it was a huge success.

"We would like to thank everyone who donated and to all the wonderful bakers.

"The cakes were delicious and there was a real buzz of activity in the centre.

"It was lovely to see so many of the customers stopping in reception to support the coffee morning after attending their regular fitness class, using the fitness suite or taking a dip in the pool.

"We would like to thank Morrisons and Clipper Teas for the contributions."

This is part of the Democracy in Bridport project, which will include music and dance throughout the day at the Electric Palace alongside films about local people and a new puppet play written by George Gotts.

A multi-media piece about migration across Europe, called 'Windows Kiss the Shadows of the Passing Thirty Million' written by Robert Golden and directed by David Glass will also be shown.

Saturday will also be the last day of part one of the projects exhibitions in Bridport Arts Centre. It shows a timeline from Ancient Greece through to today revealing key moments in the development of ideas and events in Europe, Britain and Bridport.

The Electric Palace will be open from 1pm, serving food and drink throughout the day with buskers and street theatre companies playing in and around the palace all day.

Entry is free for unemployed people, those on a low wage and children; organisers are hoping others will donate what they can.

All money raised will go towards the Home in Bridport project, which continues supporting its work at St Mary's Primary School, Skilling residents and other projects.

In conjunction with the Democracy in Bridport project, local photographers Rosie Mathisen and Chris Hilton, will explore democracy through landscapes and contemporary work in the town hall until October 24th.

The full schedule of events is available at www.bridportdemocracy.weebly.com

Sea Cadets to lead parade

A LOCAL sea cadet branch has been revived and will be leading the Trafalgar Parade through the town.

The Bridport Sea Cadets were under threat of closure early this year with a lack of both members and funds but Barry Woodhouse and other management committee members have managed to turn the Bridport unit T.S. Keppel around.

And the unit will march through the town on Sunday, October 25th with other Somerset and Dorset sea cadets and their band to mark the momentous day.

Barry Woodhouse said: "A new management committee volunteered and some of the old committee have stayed on.

"A truly strong team with the brilliant hard working unit's instructors and some very generous donors have made it possible for the closure to be turned into a success story.

"We have a Trinity 500 rowing boat which has been in use during the summer evenings on the river above West Bay and some weekends cadets have had instruction on our Champ motor boat, training them to achieve RYA certificates.

"The future looks rosy with projected sailing courses in Portland harbour.

"It is interesting to note that 24 per cent of the Royal Navy's recruits have previously been sea cadets.

"We now have a solid foundation having passed our annual inspection and officially had the threat of closure lifted.

"We would welcome new cadets, 10 to 18-year-olds, and staff to train the cadets.

"Naturally any financial help is always most welcome. We have to raise all our own finance as a stand alone charity."

The group are encouraging the local community to come and support them on Sunday, October 25th for the Trafalgar Parade which will march through Bridport at around 11.40am to St Mary's Church on South Street and at 1pm march to Bucky Doo Square where the salute will be taken by Dorset's vice president Lord Lieutenant James Gibson Fleming, Captain of the Sea Cadets, Captain Phil Russell Royal Navy and Bridport Mayor Councillor Sandra Brown.

New book looks at history of famous hill

TWO local residents have launched their first book on one of the town's most famous landmark. Chris Toombs and Cathy Harvey signed copies of 'Allington Hill' at The Book Shop in South Street on Saturday (October 10th).

It includes residents' memories of spending time on the hill, its history and a front cover painting of Allington Hill by Gillian Hulse.

Chris Toombs said: "We got the idea because we started one of the Allington Hillbillies volunteer groups and a lot of people were telling us about their memories of the hill so we thought it would be nice to record its history, as no one has ever written about the history of the hill."

"Local people contributed with their memories; it includes the history, royal celebrations, and there is a bit about the Allington Hillbillies as well as dedications."

"There are also various things about the planting of the trees in Coopers Field covering the background and history to the present day. We just didn't want to lose the lovely memories we had heard from the people we met."

The book costs £14.99 and is available from The Book Shop or direct from the authors by emailing allingtonhillbook@btinternet.com

Fairey Band concert will return

ONE of Beaminster's most popular events will be coming back to the town this month and its future looks bright after it was feared this year could have been its last, writes LOTTIE WELCH.

Local residents Tony and Margaret Greenham have organised the Fairey Band concert in the town for 36 years but they revealed last year that, when they got to 80-years-old, they would have to take a step back and stop organising the annual event.

But the couple, who have been made the Stockport-based band's honorary vice presidents, have made good friends with the musicians and enjoy the event so much that they will carry on for the time being.

The Fairey Band, which came third at the National Brass Band Championships of Great Britain last weekend, will be playing at Beaminster St Mary's Church on Saturday, October 24th at 3pm.

The concert, which will also include a couple of pieces from their first concert in the town in 1979, will be raising money for Parkinson's UK, the main charity, and Beaminster St Mary's Church.

Mr Greenham said: "The conductor, Mark Peacock, his dad had Parkinson's and around three years ago he died, not as a direct cause of the disease but it was a contributing factor. He was also a member of the Fairey Band and came to Beaminster on a number of occasions and that is why we decided to make it our main charity.

"Last year I said this would be the last concert as, when I got to 80, I would have to stop organising it, but the band said that I can't do that and they want it to go on a bit longer. As long as Margaret and I are in reasonable health we will carry on."

"The band said this was the highlight of their calendar coming here, we really enjoy it and it gives us a buzz doing it. It is hard work but we get a lot of support."

"We have had wonderful times, met fantastic people, it really has been a part of our lives and we would miss it if we didn't do it."

And this year, Mr and Mrs Greenham will be holding a party in Beaminster Public Hall at 7.30pm after the concert for friends, family and people who have supported and helped them over the years with the organising of the concert.

Tickets for the concert cost £12 and are available from Symonds and Sampsons estate agents and Beaminster Team offices, both on Hoghill Street, and at the Yarn Barton Centre on Fleet Street.

CLOWN, Hattie Maths, looks on as the children get crafty with Little Inkers at the local NCT group's 30th anniversary party which took part at Salway Ash Village Hall earlier this month

ONE of Beaminster's longest running and most popular events, the annual Fairey Band concert, will be back in the town this month

THE Bridport and Lyme Regis branch of the National Childbirth Trust (NCT) has celebrated 30 years of helping mums and families in the area.

Members and volunteers marked the milestone with a birthday party on Saturday, October 3rd with a host of entertainment for babies and toddlers, as well as a celebration of all the local charity has achieved.

Over 30 families came together and joined in the fun at Salway Ash Village Hall to mark three decades of the volunteer-run charity.

The branch volunteers put on a range of activities from arts and crafts, provided by Little Inkers an art and drawing club for children, a clown, toddler disco and lots of homemade cakes.

Local businesses and branch members donated over 30 raffle prizes and a cake was enjoyed by all.

The branch runs a range of support groups, training and information services covering pregnancy, birth and beyond.

Branch president Ellen Simon, one of the group founders in 1985, congratulated volunteers past and present for their efforts and identified the unique role that the NCT plays in the community.

She said: "We offer, and have always offered, information and support on a wide range of issues from birth and breastfeeding to weaning and the toddler years, but always focused on being as friendly and inclusive as possible.

"Some people get involved with our branch for years – 30 in my case – others come to one group just at the point when they need a confidence boost or some moral support and then they don't need to come again."

"That is exactly why we are here – to offer that flexible support. I am very proud to be the president of such a vibrant local community group."

Congratulations were also expressed to branch co-ordinator Danielle Lanning on her recent award of winning NCT South West region 'Volunteer of the Year'.

She was commanded for her commitment and innovation, in particular setting up a new 'Just Bumps' pregnancy group and ensuring a strong social media presence for the branch.

She will be going to London to represent Bridport and the South West at the national NCT volunteering awards on October 20th.

WITH autumn well and truly upon us our thoughts begin to turn to battening down the hatches for winter. One area often overlooked is your property's roof, despite the fact that it bears the brunt of the rain, hail, snow and frost! But it's worth giving it a second thought because that moss up there is slowly causing problems which accelerate over winter. Rain sodden moss adds considerably to the weight load on your roof, but of more concern is the freeze/thaw effect. Waterlogged moss expands when frozen, lifting tiles and causing them to fracture at the join with the tile above. In addition, moss at any cement/tile join (ridge tiles and gulley interfaces for example) will gradually crack the cement seal, causing the render to fall out and allowing moisture in. Removing the moss halts this process entirely, which in the long term reduces your maintenance costs. As an added bonus the roof cleaners will, as part of the process, clear your gutters and downpipes ready for winter.

Lions' swimarathon

by Lottie Welch

lottie@pemedia.co.uk

THE 22nd Bridport Lions club Swimarathon has raised thousands of pounds for charity as the annual fundraiser made a splash earlier this month.

The event, held at Bridport Leisure Centre, involves teams from local business, schools and clubs competing against each other to swim the most laps of the pool in 55 minutes.

So far, the event has raised £64,493 over the past 21 years and the teams this year have already pledged £4,213 with more still to come in.

The 24 teams that took part included Bothenhampton Brownies, Bridport Leisure Centre Big Fish, the Bopper Bus, Bridport Post Office, Bridport Youth Dance, Bridport Deaf Club, Salway Ash Primary School, Bridport Primary School and Parrett and Axe Primary School.

But it was the Bridport Barracudas who were triumphant across the board by swimming the most laps of the pool in 55 minutes in the senior, junior and mixed categories.

Their senior team, Barracuda Bandits, swam 104 laps, just three away from the previous laps record of 107.

Their junior team, Swimming Sheep, managed 83 laps with their mixed team, Mixed Up, swimming 76, both close to the junior and mixed record of 86 laps.

In total, the 24 teams swam 1,409 lengths of the pool throughout the day.

Peter Garlick, president of Bridport Lions club, said: "I wish to thank all those sponsors for their generosity and, of course, the swimmers for their hard work on the day and in getting sponsored themselves to raise funds for good causes."

"There was enthusiastic support poolside, including the Mayor of Bridport, Councillor Sandra Brown who started the first couple of swims.

"Our thanks also go to Leakers who supplied delicious jam doughnuts for all swimmers."

Pool sponsors include: Amsafe, ABC Blinds, Beaminster Pharmacy, Boilerman Limited, Bridge House Hotel in Bridport, Bridport Lighting Centre, Bridport Post Office, Carpet World, Coastal Nets, Dorset Kitchens, Fowler Construction, Freshwater Beach Holiday Park, G Pitcher Locksmith, Harbour Bonfield, Heavers of Bridport, Highlands End Holiday Park, Kennedys estate agents, Kind 2 Feet, Lidl UK, Long's fish and chips, Nantes Solicitors, Nick Tett Butchers, Parkdean Holidays, Turner Build and West Bay Hotel.

Raffle sponsors include: Boots, Broadwindsor Craft Centre, Frampton butchers, Fruit 'n' Two Veg, Gemmas Flowers, George Hotel, Hair by David, Olive Tree restaurant, Riverside restaurant, Steptoes, Waitrose and Waterstones.

CHALLENGE ROB

A weekly column throughout October

Trying out everything HEALTH & FITNESS has to offer!

AFTER a great first week I was back at the gym after work on Monday feeling great and looking forward to my next couple of sessions. Again I was struck with how much space there was considering it was Monday night and probably the most popular time for people to train. There were no issues with having to wait for any equipment at all, you can just get on with your workout; it really does make a huge difference.

On Monday night Duncan had me focused on a full body session doing the same as I had done on Saturday but with less reps on heavier weights. It was a totally different feeling and I did find certain bits harder than others. As it was a full body workout I lifted weights using both the upper and lower body. Despite my previous knee injury my legs feel relatively strong, which is the total opposite to my upper body. I particularly struggled with the chest press and found it really hard to squeeze out the last few reps, but Duncan gave me plenty of encouragement and helped me through. He was always on hand to give me pointers with my technique as I often found myself adjusting without realising and making things harder than they should be.

I've quickly realized how important it is to use the correct techniques, especially when weight training and that is where I feel the BI Health & Fitness team really makes a difference. They are all really friendly and get to know all their members on a personal level so you don't feel stupid or intimidated having to ask for help. Even if you don't ask they are always there to give you pointers making sure you're not going to injure yourself by lifting in the wrong way.

Tuesday night was the one I'd really been looking forward to, as it was a golf specific session focusing on exercises that will strengthen my golf game. The session was again totally different from what I'd done up to now with a lot of focus on flexibility but also working on my core strength. Everything I did was a lot more controlled and I could really feel how it was using the muscles that help me generate power with my golf swing.

Duncan also showed me a few exercises with a new piece of equipment they have, which is called an RMT club. I instantly felt comfortable as you can hold it similar to a golf club and work the specific muscle groups you use in the golf swing. The club is weighted and doing some more vigorous exercises with it certainly got the heart pumping.

It was a brilliant session that I really enjoyed. It's great to know that the team can structure you a programme based entirely on the areas you want to work on, especially if you play a specific sport. Duncan told me how they have recently created a programme for a local gig rower and also a cricket bowler. It gives a real difference to your workout and it certainly gave me extra motivation knowing it would directly help my golf game. I want to thank Duncan for putting that together for me and I look forward to developing more on that in the future.

That was my last session for the week, as I write this I'm about to head to Barcelona on a stag do for the weekend! Not the best thing for a fit and healthy lifestyle but from time to time we all have the odd slip up! However it has left me feeling almost frustrated that I now can't train until Monday, I'm really enjoying working out and in this short time it's already making me feel so much better about myself. I'm coming back to a personal training session with Craig on Monday, after a heavy weekend away with the boys it could be interesting!

New recycling system will not be as simple as it sounds to use

WHILST I am in favour of recycling waste, it has amazed me to read in the local press, online and in the leaflets sent out by the Dorset Waste Partnership, with the bins, that it does not appear quite as simple as it sounds.

We have a variety of 'bins' both large and small for different commodities which have to be 'put out' at the correct time and 'presented' in the right place for collection.

At the moment our bin men do a fantastic job for which we are all very thankful but I have doubts as to how this is going to work out in the future.

Should a householder put the wrong item in the wrong bin they will apparently not get their bin emptied but receive a 'tag' which could be white, orange, pink, green, blue or pink (according to the 'crime' committed as stated in the online information).

This is not to be confused with the weight of the bin etc, for which the bin will not be emptied (the online information is well worth reading, but in some respects appears to be slightly bureaucratic).

At the moment our bin men in most cases are running to keep up with the collection lorry, so how on earth are they going to have time identify the wrongdoing and place these 'tags' on the bins as well as collect other bins and keep up with the lorry (I suppose the bin men will have to carry a pad of different 'tags' to issue, further hindering their work).

Moving onto the new recycling centre at Broomhills I understand there is a scale of charges for different rubbish, many of which appear to be such an odd amount that whoever is collecting the money will need to have a large bag of change at hand, with all the security problems that could incur.

Surely if there is a need for a charge then either a round pound or multiples thereof into a machine similar to those on entering a car park would be easier for all concerned.

This would alleviate the responsibility of an individual needing to carry loads of change and having to be an accountant at the end of each day.

I wish the scheme success but feel that bureaucracy is stepping in at an early stage, which could lead to more fly tipping which is a blot on our wonderful landscape already.

Deadline looms to have your say on Vearse Farm development

IN LIGHT OF last week's West Dorset planning meeting, councillors were given a briefing on the Vearse Farm application for guidance when it comes before committee next year.

We at ADVEARSE are totally in agreement for promoting the allocation of building land in Bridport and its environs for low-cost housing. We do however, object to an additional tranche (65 per cent or greater) of higher cost, market driven housing, typically 500 dwellings on Vearse Farm if approval is granted.

The demographic for this area is currently skewed, in that the majority of residents are at the higher end of the age spectrum.

Any development in Bridport and the outlying villages needs to redress this balance and encourage less fortunate and younger members of our society, gaining the option of ascending the housing ladder. This will only be achieved by implementing low-cost housing.

We were very concerned that the Hallam Land Group have implied that the allocation of 260 affordable homes, 35% (or less) of the total build of 760 would be assessed on the basis of viability as reported in your paper previously. Originally, the Local Plan indicated that a minimum of 35 per cent affordable's would have been mandatory. This was changed by removal of the word minimum, after the Inspector, Paul Crysell had published his comments recently, as part of the Main Modifications of the Local Plan.

We are totally committed to the campaign that the current aforementioned size and positioning of the Vearse Farm development as proposed, is undesirable to Bridport. Furthermore, its effect on the environment, road infrastructure and culture etc. are detrimental to the locale.

These criteria will all be seriously considered, and alternative options sought accordingly, as the local Neighbourhood Plan (Vision 2030) develops and is delivered, over the next fifteen months.

We feel it is of significant importance that like-minded residents register their lack of support of this development accordingly, using the web address: <http://bit.ly/1YQBEY3>

The closing date is October 27th.

FEMINISTS FIRST FOR SUFFRAGETTE FILM

| Local feminists were amongst the first in Dorset to see new film Suffragette, about members of the suffrage movement. Bridport feminists group Bridfem and Bridport Wildcats booked to go to its first screening at the Plaza cinema in Dorchester on Monday, October 12th, all dressing the part in their sashes and rosettes.

Member Margie Savory said: "It shows the life of a young laundry worker, Carey Mulligan, being turned upside down as her political awakening makes it impossible for her not to see the injustices surrounding women's lives.

"It is incredible to think this was all so recent and that women only had universal suffrage in 1928. We owe these women so much."

Bridfem meet on the first Wednesday of every month with the next meeting on Wednesday, November 7th at 7.30pm at The George Hotel in South Street. All women are welcome. Pictured are Bridfem members, clockwise from left back, Heather Hamer, Margie Savory, Ro Gallagher and Sue Lamb.

Police seize cannabis worth £14,000 near Burton Bradstock

POLICE in Bridport have seized 46 fully-grown cannabis plants from a remote location near Burton Bradstock.

The raid, led by PS Geraint Butler, resulted in members of the Bridport Safer Neighbourhood Team confiscating around £14,000 worth of the drug.

Officers said that the plants were cultivated in a well thought out and purpose-built plantation, with the largest plants around four feet tall, and that it was a "well organised plantation worth a significant amount of money".

Bridport Police Inspector Mike Darby said: "This is another excellent result by Bridport Safer Neighbourhood Team in preventing drugs circulating in West Dorset.

Boost for a Bridport food bank

AN afternoon and evening filled with music at the Ropemakers pub, West Street, has raised hundreds of pounds for one of Bridport's food banks.

The fundraiser, which took place on Saturday, October 3rd, was part of a national series of events called 'We Shall Overcome' which involved nearly 250 separate events across the country and collected much needed supplies for Cupboard Love.

Musicians performed in the Ropemakers from 3pm and included, Charlie Bateman, Sharon Lazibyrd, Son of Richard, Gris-de-Lin, Will Harper and Skeg, all rounded off by Hobo Jones and the Junkyard Dogs.

The event raised a total of £734.90 for the food bank, along with over £100 worth of food donations, including a generous donation from John and Geraldine Baker, landlords of the Ropemakers, of £200.

Keith Hatch, who organised the Bridport event, said: "It was a brilliant day and I really can't get over how generous people were with their donations."

"It is very sad that in the 21st century and one of the richest countries in the world, people need to rely on food banks to survive.

"However, these events were about local people supporting each other and Bridport really shone through."

"The musicians, pub staff, volunteers and local businesses who supplied raffle prizes were brilliant – but most important was the public who came to the event and gave so generously."

Keith Hatch, along with John and Geraldine Baker, handed over the money and donations raised from the event to the Cupboard Love team last Wednesday (October 7th).

Chris Newton-Evans, who organises Cupboard Love food bank, said: "The We Shall Overcome fundraising event at the Ropemakers was amazing."

"Right from the start donations of food and money rolled in and did not stop. Everyone gave what they could from a few quid to lovely £10 and £20 notes. I am honestly amazed at the amount raised."

"All the money will be spent on Christmas hampers which will just make it a wonderful time for some people who really need a hand up."

Cupboard Love food bank operates out of St Mary's Church on South Street and food and other goods are available at Walk-in Wednesdays from 11.30am.

"When I am asked about Cupboard Love food bank I always tell people I am really lucky because all I have to do is tell the fabulous people of Bridport what we need and they come up with it," added Mrs Newton-Evans.

"Bridport is a really dynamic town where people are making it very clear that they will not tolerate food poverty, they will not sit back and watch the chaos caused in people's lives by cuts in benefits, zero hour contracts and the loss of an income caused by ill health."

"Lives unravel really quickly and because people support Cupboard Love food bank with donations of money and food, we can walk alongside individuals and families who are having a hell of a time."

"Skeg sang a song about domestic violence last year on December 23rd and I received a call from a lone parent with two children whose sister-in-law, who had fled from her violent husband, had just turned up with her three children."

"I was able to provide everything they needed for a Christmas dinner and more, as well as a few gifts for the children."

"The survivor of the abuse came to the door to thank me. Her bruised face shocked me to my core but I was so thankful that the town where I live showed that they are serious about giving people a hand up."

Dorset Police issue online safety advice

DORSET Police is continuing to help and advise the public on the threat of cyber-crime and is encouraging the county's residents to ensure they are safe online and on social networking sites.

Superintendent Mark Callaghan, director of intelligence, said: "Many of us enjoy sharing the details of our lives with our online friends, but do you really know who you are communicating with and who can see your posts?"

"Make sure your privacy settings are set to the highest level so that only your friends can see your details."

"It is easy for a cyber-criminal to get personal details from social networking sites. Posting details and photographs of your summer holidays while you're away may seem innocent enough, but to a burglar you have just advertised you have an empty house."

"Be wary about who you invite or accept invitations from on social networking sites and internet telephone services. Do not accept friendship requests from complete strangers – you would not do this in real life!"

Dorset Police is advising people to be wary of publishing any identifying personal information either in a profile or in posts, such as phone numbers, pictures of homes, workplace or school, addresses or birthdays.

Links can also lead to hoax pages and sites designed to defraud and steal a person's identity and users are encouraged to choose safe passwords as accounts can be hacked.

The risks are becoming the victim of online bullying, trolling – users who post comments online with the intent to cause offence or upset – or other forms of abuse.

Dorset Police are reminding people that what goes online, stays online and not to post anything or publish pictures that might later cause embarrassment.

"I would urge everyone to visit Get Safe Online and cybersafe.dorset.police.uk for help and advice on online safety," Mr Callaghan added.

"Together we can ensure all Dorset's residents are cyber safe."

Intimate photos or videos posted online without the person's permission can also be reported to Dorset Police by calling 101.

Ropemakers crew complete charity abseil

STAFF and customers of the Ropemakers pub in West Street, Bridport, came together for a charity abseil and raised £1,000.

The group abseiled 100 feet down Cranmore Tower near Shepton Mallet on Sunday, October 4th and in total they have pledged over £1,000 in sponsorship for Parkinson's UK.

John Baker, landlord of the pub with his wife Geraldine, was diagnosed with Parkinson's last year and the couple undertake lots of fundraisers for the charity.

John and Geraldine Baker said: "It gives us great pleasure to give our staff the opportunity to take part in events that raise both money and awareness for a variety of charitable causes.

"We are very proud of our staff and customers for showing bravery and commitment to both the cause concerned and ourselves.

"We firmly believe that the pub should be the hub of the community and raise awareness as well as money for charitable causes.

"We would like to thank all concerned including the sponsors who have committed their hard earned money.

"This event has inspired one of the participants to contemplate a wing walk next year. For this he will be required to raise over £750 in sponsorship so we will be looking to help him achieve this over the coming months."

John and Geraldine hold charity events on a regular basis at the pub and this year have raised over £5,000 for Parkinson's UK along with other charities benefiting from other events.

They raised £2,445 with their 25km sponsored walk earlier in the year and the annual Birthday Bash on August bank holiday raised over £1,600.

Plans are also underway to organise more events later in the year including a 'beautiful beards and magnificent moustaches' competition at the end of November.

Ecuador beckons for Bridport teenager

A BRIDPORT teenager is on a mission to spend the next two years fundraising for a once in a lifetime expedition to Ecuador, working to improve living standards for local people.

Sir John Colfox Academy student, 14-year-old India Morgan who lives in Walditch, is determined to raise as much money as possible for the Camps International trip which will enable her to support rural communities, restoration projects, marine protection and building schools.

India's first fundraising event will take place this Saturday, October 17th, at Walditch Village Hall from 2pm to 4pm, where she will be hosting an afternoon tea and she is also planning to use the event to sell handmade Christmas cards and gifts.

India said: "I have never done anything like this before and I am going to do everything I can to raise money so I really hope people come along for an afternoon tea this Saturday.

"It is really important to support those less fortunate than you and this expedition will probably be life changing."

India is hoping to visit Ecuador in the summer of 2017 and she and her family will be organising a series of events and sponsorship opportunities in order to raise the money.

Almost 40 per cent of what she collects will be going directly to local projects in Ecuador.

SIR John Colfox Academy student India Morgan is busy baking for her first fundraising event this Saturday as she hopes to undertake an expedition to Ecuador to help local people

Get your greenhouse winter-ready

By Hannah Stephenson, Press Association

THE first frosts have already arrived in parts of the UK, which is your sign to get tender plants under cover before they succumb to the ravages of winter.

If you haven't already done so, check your greenhouse heater's working, that automatic vent openers are still operating, and clear out cucumbers, peppers, aubergine and chilli plants which have been fully harvested.

As the weather turns cooler, close up the greenhouse in the early afternoon to trap heat, which will help to ripen indoor fruit. Keep dampness to a minimum and ventilate when possible to move air around the plants and keep them healthy.

If you have permanent fruit growing in your greenhouse borders, work in organic matter such as compost or well-rotted manure around them.

Bring in tender plants including canna and bananas in pots, before the frost damages the leaves, as well as shrubs including azaleas, camellias and daphnes for early spring flowers.

There's still time to sow Californian poppy, pansies, cornflowers and sweet peas, and plant bulbs for spring colour.

Linda Lane, managing director of family firm Griffin Glasshouses, says key tasks should focus on letting in light, eliminating disease and controlling bugs and pests.

Autumn is a great time to have a good clear-out as you will get rid of pests which might otherwise overwinter in the warmer environment.

"It is essential to keep glasshouses clean and healthy," she says. "They should not be used to store garden tools, pots, old plant labels and seed boxes as they can harbour pests and diseases. Make sure the glass on both the inside and out is regularly cleaned to maximise the short daylight and sunshine hours we have in the winter."

Use a proprietary glass cleaner if the panes are particularly dirty, otherwise just plain water, making sure it doesn't drop on to the leaves of the plants. She advises against using a pressure washer unless it's a warm day when plants can be taken outside.

"Keep pathways and staging clean and, if necessary, wash over with a non-toxic disinfectant. Repair broken glass because draughts can cause immediate damage in cold weather."

Where panes overlap, use an old lolly stick or plant label to ease out the dirt, then give the area a gentle slosh with water to remove it completely. Use a scrubbing brush to wash down shelves and staging, making sure you do the underside as well as the top.

It may be too late in the season to repaint or treat wooden greenhouses, but all metal supports should be washed down, inside and out, again ensuring no spillage onto the plants.

You may need to put up insulation to ensure overnight temperatures are kept as high as possible inside the greenhouse, saving money on heating bills.

"Finally, our changing weather patterns suggest we are going to experience a lot more torrential rain, so make sure glasshouse guttering, and other rain harvesting facilities, are working efficiently and are clean.

"On warmer, sunny days, do make sure the glasshouse is ventilated, but remember to close up at night," warns Lane.

BEST OF THE BUNCH - Miscanthus

Ornamental grasses come into their own at this time of year and miscanthus is among the best, forming a large clump of arching mid green leaves - and in autumn upright stems appear bearing silvery flowerheads. It grows best in full sun in fairly fertile, moist but well-drained soil. The flowerheads can be left to create movement and structure in winter but should be cut down to ground level in early spring. Established clumps can be divided to increase stock in spring. Good varieties include M. sinensis 'Silberfeder' and 'Grosse Fontaine', also known as 'Big Fountain', which grows to 2m (6ft). These grasses are popular for prairie and gravel planting and some, such as 'Undine', have good orange autumn colour.

GOOD ENOUGH TO EAT - Ripening tomatoes

Even if your outdoor tomatoes are green, you'll have to bring them in now to avoid them being hit by frost. But there are ways of ripening tomatoes once they've been picked. If you have cherry tomatoes, for instance, you can cut trusses of them and hang them in an airy place such as the kitchen or a potting shed for them to ripen. Another good way is to put a few green tomatoes in a sealed jar or brown paper bag with a banana. Bananas emit ethylene gas, which encourage tomatoes to ripen. The cooler the storage area, the longer it will take for tomatoes to ripen, but in a normal household situation, they should ripen within two weeks. If you have immature green tomatoes which simply aren't going to ripen, consider making a chutney or green tomato relish with them.

WHAT TO DO THIS WEEK

- Cut the grass if the weather remains warm and dry, and trim the edges.
- Cut down all dead flower stems on herbaceous perennials and tidy borders to remove foliage and plant remains, compost this material. Leave late-flowering perennials.
- Sow a row of hardy peas and cover with cloches. Broad beans can also be sown now.
- Remove old vegetable crops, clear the ground and dig compost or manure into the soil. Leave heavy soil roughed so frost can penetrate to help break it down.
- Lift dahlia tubers when the foliage has been blackened by frost.
- Throw a net over a branch bearing holly berries to stop the birds pecking at them.
- Bring potted late-flowering chrysanthemums under glass before frost strikes.
- Wrap grease bands around the trunks of apple, plum and cherry trees to catch the winter moth as she climbs to lay her eggs.
- Rake and scarify lawns to remove thatch and other debris.
- Continue to take hardwood cuttings of roses and shrubs like cornus, buddleia and ribes.

Sherborne Turf

ESTABLISHED for over 40 years, Sherborne Turf is situated in the picturesque village of Trent in Dorset, where we have around 150 acres of quality farmland dedicated to the production of our Trent Turf. Grown without netting, we use a blend of grasses developed over the years that will knit together to form a firm base, and leave our turf in the ground for 18 months before harvesting. It is then freshly cut to order and delivered using our own vehicles. While the trade standard for delivery is 'kerb-side', we realise that this is not always practical for our customers, and so our experienced drivers always endeavour to place the items as conveniently as possible for you, a service which is often not provided by other companies.

Although our core business is turf production, we also supply a full range of locally sourced topsoil, compost, bark and mulch. Other essential garden items include fertiliser, irrigation equipment, landscape accessories, and a full range of seed mixes to grow wildflowers and grasses for companion sowing.

Our delivery vehicles include an artic with removable forklift, a 6-wheel rigid crane lorry, and a pick up truck with trailer. We also have access to a wide range of vehicles for bulk loads of topsoil, compost and bark.

All of the staff here at Sherborne Turf have experience of the products we sell, and are happy to discuss any aspect of your garden project. Our website www.sherbornturf.co.uk contains detailed information, practical advice, and even has an interactive calculator. We are also on Facebook and Twitter, or why not give us a call on 01935 850388.

Glorious Gardens

A prickly subject

By Hannah Stephenson, Press Association

▲ The Hedgehog hole in the Hedgehog Street show garden at RHS Hampton Court Palace Flower Show 2014.

Hedgehog populations are in trouble. They've declined by 30% in the last 10 years alone and there are now thought to be fewer than a million left in the UK, according to the RHS.

So, what can gardeners do about it? This year, the RHS and The Wildlife Trusts are teaming up with the campaign Hedgehog Street during Wild About Gardens Week to encourage us to make gardens, schools and community spaces hedgehog-friendly.

"Improving your gardens for invertebrate groups will encourage hedgehogs into the garden, as insects, slugs, snails and earthworms are the hedgehog's natural food source," says Helen Bostock, RHS senior horticultural adviser.

Hedgehogs are not herbivores, so will not feast on leaves, flowers or other plant matter, but they will feed on the pollinating insects and other species which are attracted to particular plants.

As well as feeding on slugs and snails, hedgehogs also eat groups of beetles, caterpillars, earthworms and even birds' eggs, as well as meat-based dog and cat food, or dry hedgehog food available from garden centres and online.

"There's going to be an indirect benefit when it comes to plant choice," says Bostock. "If you increase invertebrates you will encourage the hedgehogs' natural food sources."

At this time of year, just before hibernation, good pollinating plants including asters, dahlias, Japanese anemones, sedums and Verbena bonariensis will all encourage just the type of invertebrates hedgehogs need to get them through the winter.

At other times of the year, a mix of flower shapes will attract a variety of insects, from tall foxgloves, to climbing honeysuckles, ornamental alliums, salvias, single flowered roses and herbs, including rosemary and chives.

Bear in mind that hedgehogs only have short legs and don't do well on steep inclines, she says.

"Remove potential hazards. Any steep sides on ponds can lead to hedgehogs drowning. Create a gentle ramp to allow them easy access in and out of the water."

"Check bonfire piles before you light them, as hedgehogs may be hiding underneath them and be careful when strimming long grass, where they may be found. Also, don't leave litter or items like fruit cage netting loose for hedgehogs to get caught up in. Open drains and trenches can also cause problems."

Wild About Gardens Week will also be encouraging people to create 13cm x 13cm hedgehog holes in fences, walls and other barriers to allow these creatures to access different gardens for food and shelter. "Solid boundaries are problematic for hedgehogs," says Bostock. "Adults travel between 1-2km per night and need that space to forage."

Gardeners should not cut everything back as soon as late autumn arrives, she says. Leave some stems standing to provide effective cover and if you want to buy or make hedgehog shelters, make sure they are sturdy and that their holes are big enough for access, and place them in a quiet spot with natural cover such as leaves, so that rain doesn't flood the shelter.

To illustrate the point, RHS Harlow Carr in Yorkshire is launching three gardens which are each 5m x 5m - one contemporary, one formal and the other wild - with small holes in the boundaries to allow hedgehog access, featuring planting which will attract invertebrates and hedgehog shelters.

Leafy plants including hostas, which provide both cover and attract slugs and snails, which are food for hedgehogs, are featured in the gardens, as are willow shelters, short grasses and bare soil, where they can forage for worms.

Wild About Gardens Week runs from October 26 to November 1. For details go to www.wildaboutgardensweek.org.uk/events

GOOD ENOUGH TO EAT - Shallots

Shallots are often seen as the up-market relative of onions, having a milder flavour and looking and tasting delicious whole in casseroles, as well as being perfect for pickling. Yet they are as easy to grow as regular onions. You buy sets in February and March, planting them out with a trowel so they are just covered by soil, spacing them 20cm (8in) apart in rows 30cm (12in) apart. The area needs to be kept weed-free and you'll need to water them in periods of dry weather. Harvest them when the leaves turn yellow in July or August, lift and then dry them in the sun, spreading them in layers in a frostproof shed. Good varieties include 'Griselle' and 'Golden Gourmet'.

BEST OF THE BUNCH - Liriope

This underrated perennial provides a dense evergreen clump of strap-shaped leaves all year round, but its moment of glory comes in autumn when striking violet flowers appear. They combine well with bright pink Nerine bowdenii or colchicums, or alternatively establish clumps between spring-flowering shrubs, where their leaves will add year-round interest. Liriope muscari, a reliable tough plant, prefers neutral to acid soil and can withstand drought, seaside winds and shade. However, they do flower best in sun. Many have variegated foliage. White-flowered types include 'Monroe White', which grows to 25cm (10in). In spring, cut down old leaves to the ground to encourage fresh new growth.

WHAT TO DO THIS WEEK

- Cut seedheads of Acanthus spinosus, teasel and globe artichokes to dry and use for decoration in the home in winter
- Lift, divide and replant older clumps of perennials such as crocosmia, hardy geraniums and hostas
- Lift canna lilies, which can be treated as tender perennials, trimmed and potted into peat-free compost, stored in a frost-free place where it's cool and dry
- Continue to plant spring-flowering bulbs
- Pot up half-hardy fuchsias and take them under cover if necessary, keeping them cool and dry but don't let them dry out completely

• Begin winter digging once the ground has been cleared, particularly if you have heavy clay soil, which benefits from being broken up and exposed to winter weather

- Pick the last of the runner beans and, if they are not too large, freeze them
- Cover bare ground with polythene to protect the soil from winter rain
- Remove old yellowing leaves on Brussels sprouts and other winter brassicas as they develop

PUPILS at St Mary's Primary School in Bridport open the new pond with Claire Legg (left) the school's eco co-ordinator, Rachael Shepherd (centre) the chair of the Friends of St Mary's and Arron Barclay of AB Aquatics

New pond at St Mary's Primary School

THE pupils at St Mary's Primary School in Bridport now have a new pond to explore and aid their learning.

The pond is currently home to newts and in the spring, staff at the school are looking into children studying the life cycle of frogs.

Claire Legg, eco co-ordinator, said: "We are very proud of our school grounds at St Mary's and we are always looking for ways to maximise the outdoor learning opportunities for the children and the eco committee wanted to develop the wildlife pond area."

"This will enable them to observe wildlife and enhance different areas of the curriculum.

"Thank you to Arron Barclay of AB Aquatics for building the pond, JC Philips and Sons, Woodland and Tree Care in Bridport and Bradfords Building Supplies for donating materials, and numerous children, parents, staff and friends of St Mary's for volunteering their hard work, building the garden, and donating and planting flowers.

"Thank you also to Magna Housing and the Friends of St Mary's for funding the project."

Green Party town councillors begin public debates

MEMBERS of the Green Party in Bridport are launching a series of public debates this month to coincide with the Democracy in Bridport events.

Kelvin Clayton, Bridport Town Councillor and chair of West and South Dorset Green Party, said: "Our aim is to engage local people in debates on important issues, not just to promote green policies.

"We would like to hear everyone's views and encourage them to be expressed and discussed in an open manner.

"The essence of democracy is that as many people as possible engage with these issues and feel able to express their opinion."

At the first debate – on Thursday, October 22nd at Bridport WI Hall, North Street at 7.30pm – the question will be 'Is economic growth for the common good?'

Mr Clayton added: "There is a generally unchallenged assumption that continuous economic growth is a good thing. We would like to change that view."

The debate, to be chaired by fellow Green Party town councillor Julian Jones, will open with a short presentation by Mr Clayton.

Various other political parties have then been invited to present their positions, but this will be followed by an open debate to which everyone is welcome to contribute.

Ammonites and wine at Furleigh Estate

FURLEIGH Estate in Salway Ash is once again teaming up with the Jurassic Coast Trust for another 'Ammonites and Wine' evening on Saturday, October 24th.

This second event hosted by the local vineyard and winery, follows the success of the first evening in August.

Dr Anjana Ford from the Jurassic Coast Trust will be speaking about her journey in science, beginning with her childhood in Slough and taking in the US National Parks Service and a PhD in glaciers before settling on the Dorset coast.

The talk will again be combined with a tour of the award-winning winery and a two-course meal accompanied by a selection of Furleigh Estate wines.

Tickets are available for £30, which includes a small donation to the Jurassic Coast Trust.

Furleigh Estate has already raised hundreds of ponds through sales of their Tyrannosaurus Red wine, in which 10p from every bottle sold gets donated.

The funds raised go towards the trusts initiatives such as the Charmouth and Lyme Regis fossil warden, equipment for the Great Dorset Beach Clean and training days for local school teachers.

Guy Kerr, from the Jurassic Coast Trust said: "It is terrific to be able to run another Ammonite and Wine evening at Furleigh Estate.

The first event was very well received and we hope to turn these fun and educational evenings into a regular feature for residents and visitors to the area alike."

Tickets are available from <http://bit.ly/1jSO3dJ> or by contacting Furleigh Estate on 01308 488991 or emailing rebecca@furleighestate.co.uk

Witness appeal after burglary and arson

POLICE in Bridport are appealing for witnesses and anyone with information to come forward after a stolen car was set alight following a burglary in the town.

Officers were alerted to a car fire at around 11.45pm on Monday, October 5th near the Crown roundabout off the A35.

The vehicle, a silver Volkswagen Beetle, is thought to have been deliberately set on fire.

The incident is believed to be linked to a burglary on the same day, between 6pm and the time the car was set alight, at an address in the St Andrews Road area of Bradpole.

The offenders gained entry to the property and stole the car keys before the vehicle was driven, abandoned and set alight.

Police sergeant Darren Stanton, of Bridport police, said: "I am appealing to anyone who may have seen the VW Beetle, and potentially the offenders, near the Crown roundabout prior to it being set alight to contact me with their information."

"I would also like to hear from anyone who saw or heard anything suspicious in the St Andrews Road area between 6pm and 11.30pm."

"Anyone with information should contact police in confidence on 101."

Witnesses and anyone with information should call Dorset Police in confidence on 101 quoting crime number 5:415.

Alternatively call the free and anonymous Crimestoppers line on 0800 555 111 where mobile phone tariffs may apply.

Bees have a home at Asker Nature Reserve

A NEW beehive has been installed at Asker Nature Reserve in a bid to attract more wildlife to the site.

The hive was made by local beekeeper Jim Binning, from Bridport Community Orchard, and supplied to members of the Asker Nature Reserve Project (ANRP) and sponsored by the Bridport and District Allotment Society.

Jim Binning said: "The hive is to promote healthy bees and will help the pollination."

"The flowers in the meadow and local area should prove really popular with the bees."

"A honey bee can travel up to six kilometres, making up to 10 trips a day. Each jar of honey requires approximately one million trips which is equivalent to about 120,000 kilometres travelled."

The hive has been placed in Asker Meadows 'boot field' by Sea Road South, which is being converted into a wild flower meadow.

Jane Wheelwright, chair of the ANRP, said: "Attracting a supporting wildlife is at the heart of this project. Having our own bee hive on site is very exciting."

Golden Cap Association talks underway

THE Golden Cap Association's series of winter talks got off to a start with a talk by Shaun McCormack called 'The Queen's Bodyguard or the Yeoman of the Guard'.

Mr McCormack, a beefeater himself, spent 24 years in the regular Army leaving in the rank of Company Sergeant Major and was sworn into the Queen's Bodyguard of the Yeoman of the guard in 2000.

All Yeomen must be sergeants or above, but not commissioned, and they must also have had at least 22 years' service and been awarded the Long service and Good Conduct medal.

The term 'Beefeater' is said to derive from the Grand Duke of Tuscany who in referring to the guard back in 1699 said, "A very large ration of beef is given to them daily at court... that they might be called Beef-eaters".

The Beefeater name was later car-

Members enjoyed an informative talk about Beefeaters and the guard, the creation of the guard, its duties and state dress.

Today the Guard has a purely ceremonial role, accompanying the Queen at the annual Royal Maundy Service, investitures, summer garden parties at Buckingham Palace and other functions.

However, their most famous duty is to 'ceremonially' search the cellars of the Palace of Westminster prior to the State Opening of Parliament, a tradition that dates back to the gunpowder plot of 1605, when Guy Fawkes attempted to blow up Parliament.

Climate change discussion with MP mate Change March in London on November 29th.

The public are invited to come along with any questions or concerns on Saturday, October 17th. Attendees are advised to arrive at 11am for an 11.30am start.

IT'S TIME TO PARTY – PUNJABI STYLE!

Dorchester Festival favourites RSVP return with their infectious bhangra beats

2014 DORCHESTER FESTIVAL headliners RSVP are back for another fantastic, energetic night of Bhangra. With more than ten Glastonbury and three WOMAD appearances under their belt they have spearheaded the renaissance of live Bhangra in the UK, opening doors for other artists and introducing Bhangra to mainstream audiences for the first time.

Every show comes with an introduction to Bhangra dance - everyone's included with RSVP's emphasis on partying Punjabi style, and Dorchester Arts are excited to welcome them back to perform at the Corn Exchange on Saturday, October 24th at 8pm.

With musicians drawn from one family across two generations, RSVP are wholly rooted in an authentic living tradition, yet unafraid to innovate, this is the ultimate celebratory Indian music.

The roots of RSVP started when bandleader Dildar was a child. He was well known as a child performer, singing at family gathering and community events.

This was taken further when he joined the family band called 'Dil Khush' (happy hearts) in 1982. This band played successfully in the UK, when bands like Alaap, DCS and Malkit Singh did not even exist.

RSVP as the band was started in the early 90's with Dildar recruiting Chris Horn (a talented studio engineer), his cousin Rajoo (playing Dholak) and his brother Judge (who had to learn the bass from scratch). The band has gone through many changes since then, but the RSVP you see now was produced when Puggy (Drums), Sarah (Violin/Accordion/Flute), Mark (Guitar) and Jeevan (Percussion) came together.

Bhangra is the traditional folk music of the Punjab region of India. Brought to the UK by the Punjabi diaspora, it has absorbed many elements from contemporary popular music to reinvent itself. As part of this progression it strayed far from the live arena to become a club and dj style built from synths and samples. RSVP have made it their mission to make it a music performed live again – to let it breathe and live once more – and to take it back to the festivals and parties where it was originally created.

Ahead of the evening gig in Dorchester, the band will also be holding a bhangra workshop for young people from the local area. Supported by the Dorset Music Service and presented by Dorchester's POP Club youth music group, this workshop is an amazing insight into the world of Bhangra instruments, music & movement for those under 18 years old. Come and find out how this style of music is put together and even have a chance to play alongside the musicians during the workshop.

RSVP perform at Dorchester Corn Exchange, High East Street DT1 1HF on Saturday, October 24th at 8pm (U18s Workshop is at 11:30am)

Tickets are £10 or £8 members and concession, and are available from the box office 01305 266 926 or from the website at www.dorchesterarts.org.uk

BRITISH BLUES AWARD WINNER CHANTEL MCGREGOR TO PLAY AT BRIDPORT ARTS CENTRE

IMAGINE the tone of Robin Trower, the inspiration of Hendrix, the influence of Stevie Ray Vaughan, the energy of Bonamassa, the intensity of Walter Trout, the haunting vocal of Stevie Nicks all rolled into one... and you have Chantel, one of the most exciting rock-blues musicians in the UK. Chantel has won several awards, including British Blues Award Guitarist of the Year 2014 and Female Vocalist of the Year 2013.

Chantel's performance will be part of her 28-day Lose Control Tour. She will perform ten new songs that not only salute contemporary rock, but shows her gradual transition from conventional Blues to a harder, bigger and bolder rock sound with progressive influences.

Chantel's highly anticipated new album, Lose Control, was released on October 9th and sees her channelling her guitar playing and songwriting into an exciting pantheon of rock crescendos and riffs.

Chantel McGregor plays at Bridport Arts Centre on Wednesday, October 28th, at 7.30pm. Tickets are £14, and are available from www.bridport-arts.com or by calling 01308 427183

Getting Ready For Winter

A 4 page guide for getting your

O'brien Roofing & Leadwork Ltd

When was the last time you had your roof & gutters checked?

If, like most people, you can't remember, then now might be the time to get around to it.

Even though they're "out of sight and out of mind" for the majority of the time, your roof & gutters actually play a huge role in the structural integrity of your house, and keeping them clean is a great way to avoid the potentially costly expense of repairs.

Gutters have one job: to guide rainwater off your roof and straight down the drain. Despite their importance, not only could you end up with structural damage, the resulting damp can cause health issues for you and your family.

Most jobs around the exterior of your house require high access and with an increased emphasis on safety, and more stringent government laws regarding Working at Height Regulations depicted by the HSE, we have all the right equipment to carry out these works. In 2012 we purchased a 20 meter High Access Cherry Picker and a 12 meter Telehandler. Both of which operators are available for hire with one of our fully trained operatives. Every roofing job presents the challenge of accessing the work area safely. In addition to this, we have recently expanded our company to include a new scaffolding division for the jobs too big for the cherry picker. After working closely over the past two years with a local scaffold firm, O'Brien's have now incorporated them under their own umbrella. With over 20 years' experience and trained to an advanced level, Daniel's cousin, Peter Lewis has joined the team to run the division, and we are pleased to be able to offer the facility of our own scaffolding system. This not only saves you money but also our highly trained and experienced team can erect and dismantle scaffold to time scales that suit your needs and to a high standard. We issue a completion certificate as well as a Scaff Tagg for each completed scaffold.

The Bridport Open Book 2015

LOVE READING? Bridport Arts Centre are preparing for the 2015 Bridport Open Book. This year's celebration of reading and writing will take place from October 13th-18th. There will be an eclectic mix of readings, film, music and workshops; the festival will climax with a 50th anniversary celebration of the year 1965.

The week of activities opens on Tuesday, October 13th with the Bridport Story Slam. The exciting event sees local writers showcasing their prose fiction in front of a live audience and panel of judges. Register to read your work at frances.colville@gmail.com or just come along to listen.

On Wednesday, October 14th, 6pm there will be a chance to join a group of local writers, Storytraders, for the launch of their new collection of stories, poems and flash fiction inspired by 'rope'. A number of writers will be reading their work beginning at 6.15pm and the book will be on sale at the event.

Later in the evening at 8pm there will be a retelling of The Picture of Dorian Gray. Adapted by Wilde's grandson Merlin Holland and John O'Connor, the play is set in the decadent world of Victorian London. Combining drawing-room comedy and gothic horror, this is a gripping and hugely entertaining theatrical event that showcases Wilde's remarkable talent.

There will be a workshop on Thursday, October 15th, 4-6pm with author and journalist Maria McCarthy. Writing For Publication gives aspiring writers insider tips on how to get journalism, novels or non-fiction books published.

Enjoy an evening of wonderful poetry and prose from this year's Bridport Prize judges Roger McGough (Poetry), Jane Rogers (Short Story) and Jane Feaver (The Peggy Chapman Andrews Award for a First Novel), Friday, October 16th, 7.30pm.

Step back to the sixties on Sunday, October 18th and celebrate the 50th anniversary of one of the most exciting years in recent history -1965. There'll be an open-mic afternoon where musicians can play the year's biggest hits or something a little more obscure, all are welcome to join us to rewind five decades to a year whose musical influence still resonates today. MC Declan Duffy.

The week will culminate in a screening of Dr Zhivago, the award-winning movie based on Pasternick's novel. The epic romance tells the story of Russian physician and poet who, although married to another, falls in love with a political activist's wife and experiences hardship during the First World War and then the October Revolution.

Arts Centre Director Laura Cockett said "We're looking forward to celebrating reading and writing with a week of entertaining activities for all".

Tickets are available online from www.bridportarts.com or from the Arts Centre's box office 01308 424204.

Adam Long's 'Dickens Abridged'

FROM Adam Long, founding member of The Reduced Shakespeare Company and co-creator of The Complete Works of William Shakespeare (abridged) comes Dickens Abridged – a fast-paced musical comedy. An absurdly talented cast of four bring hundreds of the great author's best-loved characters to life in 70 minutes of madcap Dickensian mayhem.

This wonderful show is a high-speed comic journey through Dickens' Greatest Hits, including Oliver Twist, Great Expectations (complete with flaming bride), David Copperfield, Bleak House in less than sixty seconds, A Tale of Two Cities featuring a fully functioning guillotine, Nicholas Nickleby, The Old Curiosity Shop, and, of course... A Christmas Carol.

It also delves into the bizarre-but-true story of Charles Dickens' own life, including his complicated romantic entanglements and his inexplicable enthusiasm for performing the bludgeoning scene from Oliver Twist over and over and over again.

A singing, dancing love-letter to the life and works of the great man and unlike any Dickens-based show you've ever seen before.

'Dickens Abridged' will be performed at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis this Saturday, October 17th. For more details or to book call 01297 442138 or visit www.marinetheatre.com

It will be a fun afternoon for all of the family, and a great opportunity to meet some of the finest suppliers in the local area. There will be yards of fabric, bunting, and enough of ideas and contacts to make your wedding dreams come true.

The Wedding Fair takes place on Sunday, November 1st from 12-4pm at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis. Free entry to the public, exhibitors £10 a table. For more details call 01297 442138 or email admin@marinetheatre.com

Harbour Voices

Songs and stories of the sea

AFTER the sell-out success of the show Harbour Voices at the Marine Theatre in Lyme in August, there will be another chance to see the show on Saturday, October 17th at 7.30pm at Wootton Fitzpaine Village Hall.

Hailed as "unbelievably brilliant – a triumph" with "a glorious set which really evokes the sense of a fishing village", the show features songs and stories about the lives of men and women past and present who work with boats and the sea.

The show has been put together by the Lyme Regis Shanty Singers, a twenty-strong group of men and women. Audience members can if they wish join in with some of the rousing choruses of the traditional sea shanties, or sit back and enjoy the original songs - "with harmonies that make your heart soar", as one reviewer wrote - created by members of the cast.

Tickets cost £8. To reserve, contact Sue on 01297 560948 or Penny 07825 339 289.

A 'Special' Night with Terry Hall

Terry Hall

FREE RANGE Promotions are extremely proud to be kicking off the Christmas holidays with an up close and intimate live DJ Set from legendary Specials Front Man Terry Hall at the Electric Palace on Thursday, December 17th, and tickets are on sale now.

In between touring commitments with The Specials and some solo projects, Terry Hall takes his own collection of music to selected venues across the country to give audiences a chance to hear the songs he loves.

As lead singer of one of the most important and game changing British bands of all time The Specials, Terry and his gang hammered the charts worldwide, with hits including A Message To You Rudy, Ghost Town, Gangsters, Nite Club, Monkey Man, and many many more. In addition to his music with the Specials, Terry Hall sang for Fun Boy Three, The Colourfield, Terry, Blair & Anouchka and Vegas. In 1995 he released his first solo album and has since collaborated with Gorillaz, Dub Pistols and Tricky.

His DJ sets take in some of the finest music from the last 40 years, with a style mixing up rare and classic tracks from across the genres, anything from Ska and Two Tone to 80s synth pop, hip hop and indie.

Terry's musical tastes are eclectic to say the least, as confirmed when he did five Sunday afternoon sessions as guest DJ on 6 Music in early 2014. The response from listeners was phenomenal. Terry Hall was a natural in the radio studio environment.

Attend one of his DJ sets and expect to hear the likes of David Bowie, Toots & The Maytals, The Las, The Jackson 5, Max Romeo, Althea & Donna, Talking Heads, and much more. He closed one set in Stoke-on-Trent with the Zorba's Dance Greek anthem. And it was brilliant.

It's all about fantastic music, but going to one of Terry Hall's DJ sets is also a great opportunity for getting an autograph or photo with the man himself – something that's proved a challenge at a Specials' gig over the years.

Terry Hall will be playing at the Electric Palace, Bridport on Thursday, December 17th 2015. As tickets are anticipated to sell out quickly early booking is strongly recommended. Tickets are £12.50 + bf or £15 on door and available from Bridport Tourist Information Centre or online at www.seetickets.com

Stand-up Sara to headline Pavilion comedy night

MOCK the Week regular Sara Pascoe comes to town this month to headline the latest stellar line up of comedy at the Weymouth Pavilion.

Famed for her intelligent, erudite and fiercely funny stand up; Sara Pascoe shot to fame in 2011 as a regular on Channel 4's Stand Up for the Week.

Since then her career has gone from strength to strength and in 2015 she has cemented her position as one of the most exciting new comedians in British comedy with appearances on an array of TV comedy shows from Live at the Apollo to QI.

Before this however she had been wowing fans and critics alike with a series of standout Edinburgh Fringe shows that educated and entertained in equal measure.

Joining Sara on the line up will be Bournemouth based comic, Frank Skinner's support act, Gareth Richards.

Known for his unique blend of stand-up, one-liners and low-key comedy songs Gareth Richards is one of the best loved acts on the comedy circuit and a former Edinburgh Comedy Award Best Newcomer nominee.

As well as supporting Skinner on tour, Richards also co-hosted a Sony award-winning Absolute Radio show for two years alongside him. As well as appearing in his own right on shows such as Russell Howard's Good News and Live at the Electric.

Completing the line up will be one of the big discoveries of the 2014 Edinburgh festival, James Veitch. Veitch sold out a month long run at the festival for his critically acclaimed show that was described as "Tears-down-the-face funny" by The Sunday Herald and as a show that "manages to be educational while delivering near-constant belly laughs," by The Scotsman.

Resident compere Tom Glover will once again be taking on the hosting duties and sharing his latest new material with the crowd.

Sunday Night Comedy at Weymouth Pavilion will be at 7:30pm on Sunday, October 18th. Tickets are £15 and available online at www.weymouthpavilion.com or from the box office on 01305 783225.

Tickets are available for £12.50 if bought alongside tickets for November's show featuring Shappi Khorsandi.

There's a load of perfect nonsense at The Lyric this half term!

KICKING OFF the half term week, children's theatre company Soap Soup bring their third production The Owl and the Pussycat's Treasury of Nonsense to The Lyric Theatre, exploring all the nonsense of Edward Lear in a highly visual and inventive way.

The Owl is a poet, intent on writing his greatest masterpiece yet, but he shares his den with the Pussycat who likes telling stories too, and she has quite a different approach! This unlikely pair work and play together, creating magical worlds amongst the things in their den, and turning everyday objects into new friends for their nonsense stories. But can they really work together to tell the most important tale of all: their own story, of The Owl and the Pussycat?

Inspired by the runcible works of Edward Lear, Soap Soup Theatre present a collection suitable for all ages over five of some of Lear's most loved poems in another feast for the eyes, ears and imagination. Go racing with the Nutcracker and the Sugar-tongs, travel the hilltops alongside the Dong with the Luminous nose, and sail away in a sieve, to the land where the Bong tree grows!

Audiences may recall Soap Soup's previous productions at the Lyric, Little Red Riding Hood and The Snow Baby. With their delightfully unpredictable story telling style, using clown, object puppetry and magical music, Soap Soup rounds up a collection of nonsense, bigger and better than ever before.

The performances of The Owl and the Pussycat's Treasury of Nonsense will take place on Saturday, October 24th at 11am & 2pm

Tickets are £8 adults / £6 children / £25 family of 4 (2+2 or 1+3), and are available from Bridport Arts Centre: 01308 424204 / online and from Box Office Coffee, plus on the door 30mins before the showings.

Philip Clouts Quartet 'Umoya' Album Launch Tour comes to Bridport

PIANIST Philip Clouts brings his quartet to Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, October 23rd as part of a wide ranging UK tour to mark the release of a new album, Umoya, one of the first releases on the new jazz imprint of American classical label Odradek.

It's an album that confirms the Cape Town-born Clouts' ongoing love affair with South African music but also with rhythms and melodies from around the world. Influences including Sufi music, Nigerian dance rhythms and folk music from Romania and Southern Italy, as well as gospel music all figure, in his latest compositions.

"Jazz and world music have been important to me throughout my musical life," says the now Dorset-based Clouts who emerged on the London jazz scene during the 1980s and became a key member of popular world jazz ensemble Zubop before moving to the Jurassic coast in 2006. "I'm inspired by both the freedom of jazz and the rootedness of world music with its sense of dance, community and spirituality. Listening to both genres always reveals a variety of approaches to rhythm, harmony and melody."

Although he came over to the UK from Cape Town with his family as a young child in the early 1960s, Clouts grew up hearing the music of his homeland as his parents – his father, Sydney Clouts, was a poet whose work captured the South African landscape – had brought their favourite records with them.

After his two older brothers began taking piano lessons, he impressed the family by picking up what his siblings were playing by ear. He found himself drawn to improvising, and hearing the great British pianist Stan Tracey on a television programme when he was twelve attracted him to jazz and inspired him to take the instrument more seriously.

It was while studying anthropology at Cambridge University that Clouts realised that he really wanted to focus on contributing to his own culture. On returning to London he got the chance to play with and learn from musicians including pianist Bheki Mseleku, who became a mentor for a while, and percussionist Thebe Lipere, who joined Clouts in the first incarnation of Zubop.

"There was a lot of South African music on the London scene at that time in the 1980s," he says. "I never saw the Blue Notes, who were the first wave, live because I was too young but there were bands that had grown out of them and were carrying on that same spirit that they'd brought over. Their saxophonist, Dudu Pukwana was a real force in those days and, of course, listening to the Blue Notes' pianist, Chris MacGree-gor's Brotherhood of Breath was a huge inspiration."

Clouts' current quartet features London-based musicians, rising star saxophonist Samuel Eagles, bass guitarist Alex Keen and the Yamaha Jazz Scholarship-winning drummer Dave Ingamells, all players who have, he says, taken to the multi-cultural mix at the root of his music with real enthusiasm.

"Umoya is the Zulu word for 'life force'. It can also be translated as 'soul' and 'spirit' and I'm really pleased with the way Sam, Alex and Dave brought these aspects out in the music on the album," says Clouts. "We've played a couple of dates on the tour already and I'm really looking forward to the stretch of concerts because they'll give us a chance to really develop the music."

The Bridport concert will be the only South West date on the tour and it is on the actual release date of the new album. In addition there will be a curtain raiser from the Woodroffe School Little Big Band.

The concert takes place on Friday, October 23rd at 8pm at Bridport Arts Centre, South Street. Tickets are £10 or £5 for students and children, and are available from the website at www.bridport-arts.com or by calling 01308 424204.

The new BMW 7 Series

THE sixth generation of the BMW 7 Series is a true flagship of the BMW range, blending comfort, style, dynamic ability and cutting edge technology in equal measure to create an inspiring mode of luxury transport.

Thanks to the intelligent use of multiple materials in the construction of the body, including carbon-fibre reinforced plastic (CFRP) for the Carbon Core, the new BMW 7 Series is both stronger and up to 130kg lighter than its predecessor. This advanced construction is complemented by six-cylinder petrol and diesel engines taken from the latest generation of BMW power units.

With a wealth of interior comfort and driving features, from new ConnectedDrive technology to the sumptuous Executive Lounge feature, the new BMW 7 Series redefines luxury on the move.

Exterior Design: presence and elegance in harmony

The design of the new BMW 7 Series is a thoroughly modern interpretation of luxury. Every detail has been executed with meticulous precision, clearly positioning the new BMW 7 Series as the flagship model of the current BMW range: a car of elegance, refinement, advanced technology and high quality workmanship.

Like its predecessor, the new BMW 7 Series is offered in two body variants. The wheelbase of the extended version is 14cm longer, at 3,210mm and offers extra rear space as a result. At 5,098mm in total length (long-wheelbase version: 5,238mm), 1,902mm in width (excluding mirrors) and 1,478mm (1,485mm) in height, the new BMW 7 Series is the largest series-produced car the brand has ever built. Both body variants display familiar BMW proportions, characterised by a long bonnet, short front overhang, long wheelbase and a set-back passenger compartment. A smoothly downward-sloping roofline adds a hint of sportiness.

From the front, the new BMW 7 Series radiates a feeling of assured presence. It is the brand's first car to feature an Active Air Stream kidney grille, improving aerodynamics as well as making a strong visual statement. The headlight units extend up as far as the grille, while the light graphic of the familiar BMW twin circular headlights is levelled off at its upper and lower edges. The headlights have a precisely detailed design that portrays the sophisticated technology within both in standard full LED form and when optional BMW Lasersights are specified. The lower air intake stretched wide across the front end, the chrome bars in the outer edges of the intake and the horizontal contours of the LED fog lamps underline the car's broad-set stance.

First deliveries of new '308 GTi by PEUGEOT SPORT

REMEMBER, remember the fifth of November... because the iconic PEUGEOT GTi badge is returning to the medium car segment for the first time since the 1990s, and all is set for a thrilling performance. One of the most eagerly-anticipated new model launches of 2015, the 308 GTi by PEUGEOT SPORT is a high-end performance 'hot hatch' designed with the sophisticated and enthusiastic driver in mind.

Launched as a high-performance model for the 308 range – itself winner of the prestigious 2014 European Car of the Year – the 308 GTi has been extensively developed by PEUGEOT SPORT – the Brand's in-house team of motor sport engineers that boasts a wealth of expertise and success in the performance road car and international competition fields. The 308 GTi is the fourth road car project in three years following the critically acclaimed RCZ R, 208 GTi 30th and 208 GTi by PEUGEOT SPORT.

The letters GTi only ever feature on PEUGEOT products with the highest performance. An acronym of Grand Tourer Injection, it's a badge which has become shorthand for the hot hatch segment – a sector in which PEUGEOT has more than played its part. Products such as the 205 GTi and 309 GTi have acquired near-classic status in the decades since launch, and remain hugely popular with owners who appreciate their exceptional dynamic performance.

The 308 GTi continues in the same vein. Due to the dedication of the PEUGEOT SPORT team, the GTi offers customers a striking new interpretation of the 308's sleek exterior design, enhanced sports-oriented interior detailing and an unparalleled driving experience with strong desirability and following.

Powered by the most-powerful engine of its size, the state-of-the-art 1.6-litre THP petrol engine with Stop&Start (S&S) technology is available in two power outputs – 250hp and 270hp – with both providing impressive performance; limited to 155mph. Even the environmental credentials are class-leading, with CO2 emissions at just 139g/km, while official Combined Cycle fuel economy is 47.0mpg.

With both models weighing in at just 1205kg this enables the 308 GTi 250 to sprint to 62mph in just 6.2 seconds, with a power-to-weight ratio of just 4.82kg/hp. The 308 GTi 270 sets a new segment record for power-to-weight – at just 4.46kg/hp – and reaches 62mph in a mere 6.0 seconds flat.

Key to the appeal of the 270 GTi is its Torsen® limited-slip differential, fitted as standard. Designed to improve cornering by channeling the torque to the wheel with the greatest traction, it also makes it possible to drive faster around corners and enhance grip and handling.

The 270 GTi is also equipped with 2.3kg lighter 19"Carbone®/lightweight alloy wheels shod with the latest Michelin Pilot Super Sport tyres. The design showcases the highly-capable 380mm ventilated front brake discs with solid red four-piston PEUGEOT SPORT signature calipers.

The 308 GTi boasts purposeful new styling, sitting 11mm lower to the ground than its siblings. Aggressive new front and rear design elements have been added, with six distinctive exterior colours available – new Ultimate Red, Pearlescent White, Magnetic Blue, Nera Black, Cumulus Grey and Hurricane Grey. For the most eye-catching look, a 'Coupe Franche' two-tone design is exclusive to the 308 GTi 270, contrasting Ultimate Red with Nera Black.

The interior has been carefully specified to complement the 308 GTi's exterior, subtly emphasising its sporting credentials. The door sill carries the PEUGEOT SPORT and GTi signature, while the foot pedals, foot rest and gear knob are finished in aluminum. Red stitching features on the upholstery, door panels, gear lever and premium floor mats. The GTi 270 features PEUGEOT SPORT race-inspired seats, upholstered in leather effect and Alcantara, which provide enhanced lateral support.

The compact steering wheel – an integral part of the 308's acclaimed PEUGEOT i-Cockpit cabin design – provides natural grip and precise direction. It features full-grain leather with a GTi logo at the base and a red centring mark at the top. The head-up display instrument panel read-outs has a chequered backdrop, and a GTi greets the driver on start-up.

DEVON &amp; EXETER LEAGUE D2

LYME REGIS 3 HALWILL 2

"WE were brilliant for 25 minutes and awful for the rest of the match," was Lyme manager Tim Edwards' assessment as his side edged their way to three more points and a share of the top spot in the Devon & Exeter League Division Two.

Things started really well for the Seasiders who took the lead in the third minute when striker Joe Bond showed good technique to volley home a shot from the edge of the box.

The lead was doubled midway through the half when a flowing move down the left was finished off when the unmarked Steve Batey thumped home a shot at the back stick.

Lyme then lost midfield schemer Mark Bailey who was forced off after receiving a knee to the small of his back. This brought the welcome return of talented midfielder Dec Ellis who is back at the club after short spell with Axminster Town.

But things got worse for Lyme as they were pegged back when keeper Chris Higgs' attempted clearance landed straight at the feet of a visiting striker who made no mistake.

There was some improvement after the turnaround and the Seasiders grabbed a third when Batey got on the end of a Ben Whittington cross to head in his second.

Lyme then proceeded to shoot themselves in the foot again when Julien Simier, who has been superb all season, was shown a straight red card by referee Ross England after retaliating and kicking out at his marker.

The visitors missed a golden chance to grab an 89th minute leveller when a clear one-on-one chance was half hit tamely into the arms of Higgs.

Seasiders: C.Higgs, L.Clifton, D.Rowe, G.Knight, C.Larcombe, B.Whittington, M.Bailey, R.Fellingham, S.Batey, J.Simier, J.Bond. Subs used: D.Ellis, L.Cleal, J.Gostling.

◆ DOUBLE: Steve Batey

conceded a winning goal with the very last kick of the game in extra time!

Thanks to some reinforcements from the reserves, the Ambers starting 11 looked to have a nice balance and they deservedly took the lead in the 12th minute.

Lee Quincy did well in the inside left channel to pick out Mark Cuff who turned his defender well and hit a shot into the bottom corner.

Cuff could have made it 2-0, but failed to connect with a header from a dangerous Paul Ruffles corner.

The hosts equaliser came from some good fortune, as a free kick somehow made its way into the box and an Alderholt striker hit a shot which keeper Robin Harp got hands to but couldn't prevent from crossing the line.

The Ambers retook the lead just before half time, when Ryan Gall's header from a corner was parried, but he was alert enough to react and squeeze the ball in from a tight angle.

Alderholt were reduced to 10 when one of their ranks was sent off after kicking out at Lloyd Wakley.

Despite having 10 men the hosts seemed to improve while an Netherbury were hampered by an injury to Gall that changed the game.

Alderholt had several threatening opportunities in last the 15 minutes. The pressure eventually told with only a minute of normal time remaining when a shot squeezed under Harp.

The Ambers dominated the first half of extra time while the second half was classic end-to-end cup-tie football.

The winning goal came after a mistake from substitute Paul Cuff whose slip allowed the hosts' substitute the space to net with a blistering left footed shot in the dying seconds of the match.

Netherbury manager Andy Loudon said afterwards: "It's gutting to lose a game which was that close, in that manner. Both teams had chances to win it and credit to Alderholt they played well considering they only had 10 men.

"Once again we played some nice football at times, but our mistakes were punished" Ryan Gay, Daniel Rawlings and Ryan Gall were Loudon's top performers.

PIDDLEHINTON UTD 3 LYME REGIS RES 4
LYME Regis Reserves deservedly lined up a last 16 tie at Wool & Winfrith on November 14th, but they did it the hard way.

Some very poor defending by the Seasiders' backline in the first half had them in all sorts of trouble trailing 2-0 when indeed it, could have been 5-0, "We were awful at the back, really hesitant and dozy," said player-manager Gerard Hitchcock.

But there was a marked improvement going down the slope in the second half putting opponents Piddlehinton United, currently struggling near the foot of the Dorset League Division Two table, under mounting pressure.

The siege finally bore fruit on the hour mark when Sam Bevis clipped a free kick over the hosts' defensive wall and into the top corner.

Parity was restored in the 80th minute when Pete Peacock headed in at the far post.

But Piddlehinton got their noses in front in the first period of extra time with a shot that drifted over the head of Lyme gloveman Toby Fowler.

The hosts were then reduced to ten men when they had a player shown a straight red card for what was deemed to be two-footed tackle on Wallace Blackmore – a decision that mystified Hitchcock and his players.

The Seasiders were back level in the 109th minute when defender Mark Batey drilled the ball in at the far post, and the winner came soon after when Bevis' scuffed shot was inexplicably spilled by the home keeper and Alfie Jaques was on hand the gleefully smash the ball in the net.

PUDDLETOWN 2 BEAMINSTER 1
BEAMINSTER'S interest in the County Intermediate competition ended with a disappointing performance away at Dorset League Division Two high-fliers Puddletown.

Things look good for the Rainbows when Owen Ward put them ahead, but it was all downhill from there. "The worst we have played all season. We must improve if we are going to have a chance of winning anything," was Beaminster manager Adam Herring's verdict on a poor display.

DIVISION ONE
BEAMINSTER Res 2 HAWKCHURCH UTD 5

DIVISION ONE leaders Hawkchurch United were forced to come from behind to underline their top-spot with a 5-2 win over Beaminster Reserves at The Memorial Ground.

The hosts led through a Josh Hunter goal at the interval but they were back level when Jack Larcombe slotted home from the penalty spot following a lung-bursting run from Josh Short.

However, the Rainbows responded well and Hunter regained the lead soon after.

Back came the Hawks. Short headed home from a corner to make it 2-2 before a double from Gavin Herrod and one from Andy Dymond ensured the points headed over the county border.

Beaminster manager Ian Butcher felt his team were worth a point, he said: "We conceded the last two goals on the break when we were chasing an equaliser to get back in to the game."

WAYTOWN HOUNDS 3
CREWKERNE RANGERS 3

AFTER a lively start Waytown made the breakthrough came when left back Steve Batterick's pinpoint cross was met by Garry Goodall's firm header.

Tom Rutland and James Loveridge kept driving forward looking to get the home side a second, but Rangers' Dave Smith made it 1-1, with a rare attack eight minutes from half time.

Rangers took the lead through Sam Caddy early in the second-half.

But Rutland was looking dangerous in every attack and when Loveridge picked him out inside the area, Rutland sent the keeper the wrong way and made it 2-2.

The game was now end-to-end but it was the Rangers who regained the lead through player-manager Scott Isaacs, only for the Hounds to equalise for the second time with Loveridge again the provider this time to Goodall, who got his second to make it 3-3.

Waytown manager Mark Hughes said: "This was probably the best we have played this season in terms of attacking play. Everyone got involved and wanted the ball.

"It's difficult to pick any one player out, but Ed Stephenson, Batterick, Rutland, Loveridge and Goodall all put in good shifts."

DIVISION THREE

CHARD RANGERS Res 2 UPLYME RESERVES 1

UPLYME Reserves failed to capitalise on a bright start at Venlake and were left playing catch-up for the rest of the match as they conceded twice before half-time.

A Ross Bicknell free-kick broke the deadlock and the second followed soon after when Karl Fletcher netted with a fine 25-yard strike.

The second half saw the Swallows, aided by the slope, camped in the Rangers' half.

The pressure eventually told when Hakim Bibb headed home. The wood-work came to the rescue for the hosts but they held on to leave Uplyme empty handed and anchored in ninth spot in the table.

DOWLISH &amp; DONYATT 10 NETHERBURY RES 0

NETHERBURY Reserves were the latest team to feel the full force of free-scoring Dowlish & Donyatt who appear a good bet for promotion following relegation last season.

Chris Tanner (4), Stuart Lee (2), George Hayward, Jon Bartlett, Matt Riste and Ryan Baker netted for the Dodgers.

FARWAY UTD RESERVES 1 CHARMOUTH 3
A DEPLETED Charmouth line-up banked all three points from the long trip to Eastlee Park.

The match was a personal triumph for Dan Rendell who helped himself to a fine hat-trick as the Robins chalked up their first away win in almost a year.

◆ HAT-TRICK: Danny Rendell

Rendell could have had a fourth but failed to convert from the penalty spot at 1-0 after Brin Seward had been felled in the area.

Club spokesman Paul Miners said: "We had a very weakened team but great team spirit and high effort level got us the win."

CHARD HOSPITAL CUP FINAL

PERRY STREET 2 SHEPTON BEAUCHAMP 3

A STUNNING strike from George Pugsy deep in to injury time saw Shepton Beauchamp lift the Chard Hospital Cup for a record ninth time.

But they had to do it the hard way after being forced to come from 2-0 down to retain the trophy under the Zembard Lane floodlights.

The Mothers struck first when a low free kick from Dan O'Connor was spilled by keeper Rich Pippin and Dan Collins smashed home the rebound.

The lead was doubled 10 minutes later when Pippin only parried a Steve Every shot and Collins was in the right

Good turnout

CONTINUING with races 4, 5 and 6 of the October series an unusually high turnout for the time of year saw 20 boats on the water.

The fleet included three visiting Merlin's who were tuning up in advance of their inland water championships in two weeks time, making a class of five.

Lyme's Jon Turner & Richard Parsloe achieved the boat speed they have been looking for after a season of developmental adjustments to their new Merlin.

With a gradient wind of force 3-4, alto stratus clouds and a low level mist inshore, race officer Joss Kent set a big course. Shifty winds again proved tricky and there were several capsizes.

Cameron Moss, a youth member helming his RS 800 with dad Darrol as crew, did particularly well as it is a hard boat to sail to its handicap, steadily improving with a 6th, 4th and a 1st as the morning progressed.

Turner & Parsloe sailed to a second place and a first, while Dave Stubbs & Max Whittome held their second place overall in the series on 23 points, and Dom Bowns took three 3rd places to stay 1st overall with 15 points.

Closely challenging in third place are the Moss's on 26 with Jerry Rook in fourth on 28 points.

Results overall, October Series after six races: 1st Dominic Bowns & Jim, (Merlin) 15pts, 2nd Dave Stubbs & Max Whittome (RS200) 23pts, 3rd Cameron & Darrol Moss (RS800) 26.5pts, 4th Jerry Rook, (Albacore) 28pts, 5th Dave Guthrie (Phantom) 42pts.

Malcolm above the middle

By Richard Jackman

A SOLID, steady round from Malcolm Wilson produced the best score of the day, a five under par nett 66 to win Division One of the October medal, from Peter Mayles, nett 68 and Maurice de Pasquale, 69.

Division Two saw Richard Cook's 70 good enough to clinch a win, a point ahead of 'Albert' Hall with David Binns' 72 giving him bronze.

In the midweek stableford David Lyon's six birdies helped him to a winning score of 40 points, one point better than Stuart Wight with Gareth Williams 3rd on 36 points. David's performance took his handicap down to scratch, just reward for a very competitive year.

Lyme Ladies held their AGM shotgun competition which was won by Ellie Langford & Kim Beauchamp.

At the AGM outgoing Ladies' Captain, Rosie Jackman was thanked for her year in office and Caroline Baker was warmly welcomed as her successor.

In benign conditions only Jim Kerr hit the 36-point mark for the best score of the day to secure victory in the seniors stableford, Division One, ahead of Richard Jackman, 34 and Peter Mayles 32. Division Two was won by Graham Winter 33 points from Gareth Vaughan 31 and Roger Baker 30.

Win secured, but could do better

Bridport 18 Poole 3

Dorset & Wilts 2 (South)

BRIDPORT lie fifth in the Dorset & Wilts 2 South table after this workmanlike display against a Poole side who have conceded more than 180 points in the four fixtures to date.

However, the visitors earned the first of many penalty decisions in the game. They gained nothing from it and nor did Bridport from the next which was in their favour.

But from open play Ricky Stubbs, who kicked well for Bridport all afternoon, hoisted a lofty up-and-under which was picked up deftly by Richard Middleton and off-loaded to Rich Pearce. He beat two defenders to scoop round and score under the posts. Stubbs added the conversion.

Poole's physically imposing forwards gained another penalty as Bridport handled illegally in the ruck and kicked the three points, but that was to be their only score.

Bridport's increasing dominance forced two more kickable penalties, one of which was successful, to take the score at half-time to 10-3.

The second half began with Poole offside again and a further three points to the boot of Stubbs.

Dave Cutting set up the next attack with a characteristic sniping run and chip kick which put the defence in all sorts of bother. The resulting penalty was kicked to the corner.

Bridport secured the line-out and set up a rolling maul that had Poole backpedalling over their own line and James Tuck touched down. The kick from out wide was missed.

Bridport continued to enjoy most of the pressure without quite finishing off some promising moves, a late flurry from Poole was repulsed and the game ended at 18-3.

The host, with Joe Hewetson in MoM form, can be satisfied with the result but will need to be more clinical against next week's opponents, league leaders Weymouth & Portland.

Chard U13s 22 Bridport 19

CHARD started the quicker and responded to the break down with a sharper edge. Bridport's defence was good but first tackles didn't hit home which allowed Chard to score first from a wide move.

This was answered by a running try from Finlay Shoemark whose side steps split the opposition. Without this converted try and his second unconverted try Bridport would of been well out of the game.

The second half was Bridport's and with the forwards winning the break down the backs attacked the gain line with MoM River Binksbursting through the ten channel to set up a forward attack.

With good support the pack drove the ball across the line with Callum Fowler scoring to give Bridport a 19-17 lead.

From the restart Chard scored in the corner with a minute to go to take the match 22-19.

Bridport Squash

Devastating win for 3rd team

Bridport 3rd 20 Springfields 2

Bridport 3rds scored maximum points in a devastating display of team squash writes Roger Lewis.

Riaz Dharamshi at one has certainly improved as showed in his game against Springfields Tom Greenslade.

His counter attacking and tactical play put Greenslade out of position on many occasions enabled him to play some tight good length shots coupled with the odd drop shot forcing his opponent into making unforced errors on his way to a 9-5, 9-2, 9-2, 9-1 victory. The number two match was between Bridport's Tom Munro at two is another who has improved his game, and it was his ability to play a steady no thrills game and be consistent throughout; his hitting of the ball is always true and accurate; that saw him victorious 9-7, 9-5, 9-7 against Gordon Lewis.

At three the experienced Paul Cross started poorly against Bill Oakley, losing the first game, but soon got his act together and produced an awesome display with some very powerful squash; indeed Oakley never recorded another point; and Cross cruised home 9-10, 9-0, 9-0, 9-0.

The number four match was between Nathan Neale making his debut and Ian Lever. Neale's game is based around his fitness coupled with good length shots, and as much as Lever tried it was Neale who counter attacked on all occasions with a dogged display of squash giving him a 9-3, 9-3, 9-3 victory which on this showing he will eventually emulate his father Nick, BLC's manager.

Team captain Dave Stewart was another player in good form in his number five match against Springfield's Wendy Richmond.

Indeed he kept his game very tight and compact and at the right time made full use of the boast shot which had Richmond struggling on many occasions, and he recorded a very well worked out 9-7, 9-6, 9-1 victory.

Bees news

Poor second half disappoints Annetts

Parley Sports 4
Bridport Reserves 0
Dorset Premier Division
AFTER a good run of form Bridport Reserves were undone by four second half goals at Parley.

Manager Shaun Annetts' plans were hit by the absence of the use of first team players returning following injury, and also the loss of central defender Luke King who was held up in traffic on his way back from Liverpool. Despite this the Bees gave a good account of themselves in a goal less the first half.

With the manager's words ringing in their ears not to do anything silly following the half-time team talk, the Bees defence did just that. Instead of clearing their lines, they tried to play the ball out of defence and were punished when the ball fell kindly for Toby Holmes who thumped home Parley's first from the edge of the penalty area.

Bridport looked to get back on level terms and Tom Blair produced a devastating run down the left and along the top of the penalty area before unleashing a stinging shot which just whistled past the angle of the goal frame.

Soon after this right back Adam Sturdy broke through to fire in a 20-yard shot which brought a fine save from Parley keeper James Collins.

tactical switch

With his side unable to break back, Annetts decided to change the formation in an effort to find the equaliser - but almost immediately Parley doubled their lead when Matt Newbury cut along the byline for Dan Hickford to convert at the near post.

This reversal led Bridport to lose their tactical discipline and shape allowing Parley to take control.

Keeper Josh Hadley produced a couple of excellent saves before the hosts added two in the final ten minutes to put an unfair slant on the result with goals from Kieran Douglas and a second for Holmes.

Annett's was disappointed with the result particularly in light of recent performances.

He took responsibility for introducing the change in formation when he did, which led to the second goal.

"Their second came about whilst we were in the process of changing which left their player free wide. We should have waited, and for that I take responsibility for the timing."

"We had two very good efforts on goal just before, which if one had gone in who knows what might have happened."

"However we didn't create enough going forward and made some bad decisions, and need to get back to playing how we have been."

Plucky Beaminster denied deserved win

Pool 2 Beaminster 2

BEAMINSTER Ladies produced another plucky display at Poole where they held their hosts to a very creditable draw despite being two players short.

Poole had a full squad with five substitutes available on the touchline, whilst Beaminster, once again struggling to find numbers for away games, travelled with nine players rather than concede the points.

With Poole constantly swopping personnel, it made Beaminster's task even harder, particularly in the second half as they began to tire, and it was in the final minutes that Poole finally broke their resolve to equalise and earn a point.

The West Dorset club defended brilliantly to the point that apart from the goal conceded, keeper Rachel Goodfellow only touched the ball once more in the first half as Beaminster's determination frustrated the host's to the point that they over-elaborated at times.

They did take the lead after 26 minutes when a shot was deflected by a defender. The follow up effort was going wide until it was turned in at the far post.

Beaminster decided to change tactics at the break and in the second half played further up the pitch putting pressure on Poole and it paid dividends.

Julia May's run down the right and drive into the D resulted in a short corner.

ner from which Andrea Prentice and Emily Baker played a one-two before setting up Holly Clarke to slot home.

Five minutes later they took the lead in similar fashion. This time May's run and drive wasn't interrupted and her pass from the byline found Baker who in turn fed Clarke whose shot was turned into goal by a defender.

Poole faced with the ignominy of being beaten by nine players, upped their game and volume eventually told.

Although Beaminster tried to shore up their defence, eventually they were exposed eight minutes from time and neat interplay saw the hosts equalise with a shot from the top of the D.

Thoroughly exhausted from their efforts, Beaminster managed to play out the final minutes to earn a brilliant draw.

Although everyone deserved an accolade for their efforts, Phoebe Stewart rightly was awarded the Player-of-the-Match for her relentless running, whilst Georgina Baker and Rachel Andrews also deserve mention for their fortitude and calmness in defence.

Beaminster: Rachel Goodfellow, Sarah Davies, Georgina Baker, Rachel Ackerman, Julia May, Andrea Prentice, Phoebe Stewart, Emily Baker, Holly Clarke.

Tough time for Dorset A

WEST DORSET A1 NORTH DEVON A 6

CAPTAIN Henry Middleton described West Dorset Hawks A's resounding defeat by their North Devon counterparts as 'a bad day at the office'.

With the team showing none of their recent form and no substitutes to call on they suffered a further setback when Middleton, having been sin binned for an illegal tackle, was injured on his return leaving him effectively a passenger as he was unable to run for the remainder of the match.

The visitors forced the play from the start and the only surprise was that it took them until the 14th minute before they took the lead.

And with West Dorset struggling to keep possession, and barely able to string more than a few passes together, the visitors made it 2-0 not long after following a short corner.

To their credit the home side did pull a goal back on 25 minutes from a neat move down the left when Alex Drew received the ball unmarked on the bye line and squared to John Kellas to slot home.

From here however, things started to go downhill with Middleton's infringement and injury, and just before half-time the visitors added a couple more goals to their tally to make it 4-1 at the break.

West Dorset did improve slightly in the second half but it was still the away side who were controlling proceedings.

The hosts were defending well but losing the battle in midfield and as a result they created very little for the forwards.

North Devon remained highly competitive all match and following an innocuous challenge from Dan Wyatt, one of their players pushed his hand into the Hawks' player's face and deservedly received a straight red card.

But despite a man short, North Devon still managed to score two more goals just before the final whistle to make the final score 6-1.

Skipper Middleton said, "We were awful. We had previously played well in our first two games but today we didn't have a clue when it came to the basics of keeping possession and passing the ball."

"It didn't help that we had no subs and I had to play on injured, but well done to North Devon as they played some good hockey and deservedly gave us a good spanking".

Bees squeeze home to complete cup double

Bridport 3 Bishop Sutton 2
Les Phillips Cup - att; 95

BRIDPORT squeezed past Toolstation Division One strugglers Bishop Sutton in the Les Phillips cup at St Mary's on Saturday to complete a cup double having seen off Hythe & Dibden the previous week in the FA Vase.

Bridport twice had to come behind and only snatched victory in the second minute of added time.

The visitors took the lead on 13 minutes when Bees keeper Ashley Weeks collected the ball with both hands but landed on the back of the stooping Jacob Watson and the ball squirmed it from his grasp allowing the striker to get up and pass it into an empty net.

Bridport were level within four minutes when Tom Richardson headed home from Jamie Beasley's corner; the ball taking a deflection off a defender and the underside of the crossbar, and despite keeper George Dempsey's efforts to scoop it back into play. Bridport took control after this despite not playing to their best, but it was the visitors who regained the lead just before the break when, despite an overload of Bridport defenders around him, Watson found space inside the six yard box to turn the ball home from a corner.

Once again Bridport retaliated almost immediately and two minutes later when Ryan Dovell turned neatly on the penalty spot swivelled before firing home a left foot shot following good work from Beasley, who produced a number of good crosses throughout the match.

They should have led at the break as Richardson had an excellent opportunity but sidefooted his volley over the top from close in.

Bridport continued to dominate for most of the second half and sub Gary Bulman struck the top of the bar before turning down the opportunity to shoot after being set up by Warren Byerley by squaring the ball to fellow sub Matt Condliffe who was blocked out. Byerley himself had squandered a chance from a similar situation a little earlier.

Although the Bishop's chances were limited, Bridport had to thank Chris Clarke for an excellent last ditch challenge on the edge of the box.

It looked like extra time as the game went into time added, but then the Bees were awarded a free kick wide on the left which Shane Evans whipped in and found Byerley who got down low to glance his header into the far post.

Manager Trevor Senior said: "It was not one of our better games, and our reports on them said they have been playing quite well without getting the results."

"We had chances to have won more convincingly, and so it was a relief to see the winner go as we didn't play as well as we can, but still won."
